Module 10 - Classroom Level Goal Monitoring Part 3A - Analyze

By Nathan Anderson, Amy Ova, Wendy Oliver, and Derrick Greer

This material is based upon work supported by the National Center for Education Statistics, Institute of Education Sciences, U.S. Department of Education, through Grant R372A150042 to North Dakota Department of Public Instruction. The opinions expressed are those of the authors and do not represent the views of the National Center, Institute, or the U.S. Department of Education.

Learning Goals

- Analyze data to identify middle-of-period values
 - Analyze data to compare middle-of-period actual values with expected values
 - Analyze data to compare middle-of-period actual values with end-of-year goal values
 - Analyze data to identify highest and lowest areas of performance
 - Analyze data to compare the change in values relevant to the action plan focus area
- Identify limitations and implications of analysis findings

SLDS Data Use Standards

- K.3.B Data Limitations: Knows that data have limitations and that these limitations affect the interpretation and usefulness of data
- S.4.C Aligned Analysis: Using appropriate technologies, conducts ANALYSIS suitable for the type of data collected, the VARIABLES identified, and the questions or hypotheses posed
- S.5.C Patterns: Identifies patterns, TRENDS, and gaps in data and suggests reasons for their occurrence
- S.7.A Strategies: Identifies appropriate strategies grounded in evidence to address the needs and goals identified during data ANALYSIS

Introduction

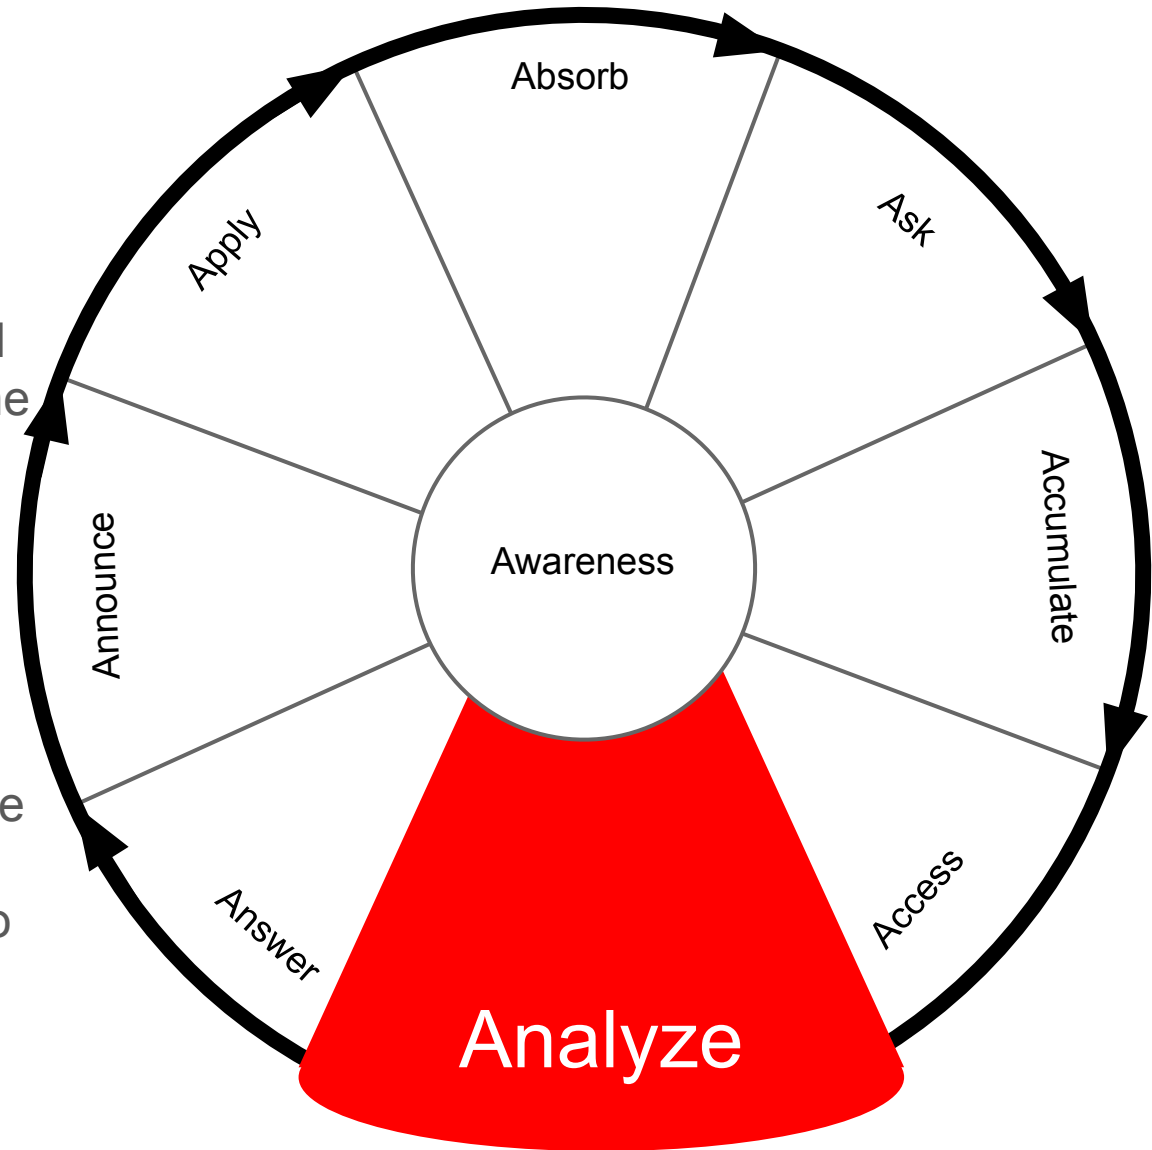

Ryan:

Now you will have individual work time to dive in and analyze your student data. I know that some of you have been eagerly awaiting the opportunity to dive into the fall assessment data on each of your students, so I'm sure you will be excited to take advantage of this time. Then, we will have conversations around the data to conclude our Data Team meeting.

Introduction

Ryan:

Now that you have pulled your needed data from the SLDS and your Goal Setting, Monitoring, and Evaluating Organizer, it's time to enter the Analyze stage where you will conduct analysis of the data you accessed. Make sure you have out your flyers in case you need to reference our district's protocols for goal setting and monitoring or be reminded of key vocabulary and concepts.

Introduction

Ryan:

Make sure you have your Goal Setting, Monitoring, and Evaluating Organizer ready as we work through the Analyze, Answer, Announce, and Apply stages. As you can see, your organizer already includes quite a bit of information, which you added during the goal setting process at the beginning of the year. At this time, during the goal monitoring process, we'll be adding middle-of-year values and action plan details.

Tutorial

In the Analyze stage, you analyze the data you accessed in a way that will reveal answers to your questions. We'll begin by analyzing data in the "Group Level Multi-Term" report. This report includes data that will help you respond to questions regarding the goal you are monitoring, which focuses on a scale score increase.

There are three charts with corresponding tables in this report. Given the scope of your questions, you need to narrow your focus on the chart and table titled, "Group Mean Score and Scores by Percentile by Test Term." You will be able to use this section of the report to identify the middle-of-year value, which will be compared to middle-of-period expected value and end-of-year goal value.

The scale score of 212 has been added to the organizer as the middle-of-year actual value.

Now it's time to compare the middle-of-year actual value with the middle-of-year expected value

- Step 1: Identify the actual middle-of-year scale score, 212
- Step 2: Identify the expected middle-of-year scale score, which is also 212
- Step 3: Subtract the expected score from the actual score ($212 - 212 = 0$)

The actual middle-of-year score and expected middle-of-year score are equal.

Goal 1: The average scale score of students in my class will increase from 209 in the fall to 215 in the spring on the district's interim reading assessment
	Where to access	Baseline	Beginning of year	Middle of year	End of year

Tutorial

Here, we'll compare the middle-of-year actual value with the end-of-year goal value.

- Step 1: Identify the actual middle-of-year scale score, 212
- Step 2: Identify the end-of-year goal scale score, 215
- Step 3: Subtract the end-of-year goal score from the actual middle-of-year score
(212 - 215 = -3)

The actual middle-of-year score is 3 points below the end-of-year goal score.

Goal 1: The average scale score of students in my class will increase from 209 in the fall to 215 in the spring on the district's interim reading assessment
	Where to access	Baseline	Beginning of year	Middle of year	End of year
Metric: Average scale score of students in my class	SLDS, Group Level Multi-Term report	Value: 209 Details: my current year students, beginning of year	Actual: 209	Actual: 212 Expected: 212	Actual: Expected: 213 Original Goal: 215 Revised Goal:

Activity Conclusion

Well done! You added 212 as the actual average scale score of your class on the winter interim reading assessment to the goal 1 section of your Goal Setting, Monitoring, and Evaluating Organizer. You also compared the actual value to the middle-of-year expected value and end-of-year goal value.

The middle-of-period value relevant to the focus of your second goal, which addresses the percentage of students meeting or their percentile, may be calculated by adding together the percentage of students increasing their fall to winter percentile and the percentage of students maintaining their fall to winter percentile ($50\% + 36\% = 86\%$). A visual representation of these values is available in the chart.

Now, let's compare the middle-of-year actual value with the middle-of-year expected value

- Step 1: Identify the actual middle-of-year percentage of students achieving their fall to winter percentile, which is 86%
- Step 2: Identify the expected middle-of-year percentage of students achieving their fall to winter percentile, which is 46%
- Step 3: Subtract the expected percentage from the actual percentage (86% - 46% = 40%)

The actual middle-of-year percentage of students achieving their fall to winter percentile is 40 percentage points higher than the expected percentage.

Goal 2: The percentage of students in my class maintaining or increasing their individual percentile from fall to spring on the district's interim reading assessment will increase from 60% based on my prior year class to 80% based on my current year class

- Step 3: Subtract the end-of-year goal percentage from the actual percentage (86% - 80% = 6%)

The actual middle-of-year percentage of students achieving their fall to winter percentile is 6 percentage points higher than the end-of-year goal percentage.

Activity Conclusion

Great work! You added 86% as the actual percentage of your students increasing or maintaining their fall to winter percentile to the Goal 2 section of your Goal Setting, Monitoring, and Evaluating organizer. You also compared the actual value to the middle-of-year expected value and end-of-year goal value.

Analyzing the “Group Level Multi-Term Growth” report will help you respond to questions regarding evidence for action planning. Given the scope of your questions, direct your attention toward the chart titled, “Percentage of Students by Subcategory and Percentile Range” and the corresponding chart. You will be able to use this section of the report to calculate the highest and lowest levels of performance within the subject of reading.

Tutorial

Calculate the percentage of students achieving average or above in each subcategory (i.e., Literature, Informational Text, and Vocabulary Acquisition and Use) by adding the respective percentages in the Avg 41st-60th %ile, High-Avg 61st-80th %ile, and High >80th %ile columns.

- The percentage of students achieving average or above in “Literature” is 21% + 21% + 0% = 42%
- The percentage of students achieving average or above in “Informational Text” is 43% + 14% + 0% = 57%

Subject area performance	Low <21st %ile		Low-Avg 21st-40th %ile		Avg 41st-60th %ile		High-Avg 61st-80th %ile		High >80th %ile

- The percentage of students achieving average or above in “Vocabulary Acquisition and Use” use is 57% + 14% + 14% = 85%

The highest percentage of students achieving average or above, 85%, represents the subcategory of “Vocabulary Acquisition and Use.” The lowest percentage of students achieving average or above, 42%, represents the subcategory of “Literature.”

Subject area performance	Low <21st %ile		Low-Avg 21st-40th %ile		Avg 41st-60th %ile		High-Avg 61st-80th %ile		High >80th %ile

You may also identify the highest and lowest subcategory through visual analysis of the bar chart. The length of each colored section represents the percentage of students performing in that category. Red indicates Low, orange indicates Low-Average, Yellow indicates Average, Green indicates High-Average, and blue indicates High.

Tutorial

The subcategory with the longest combined sections of yellow, green and blue represents the highest percentage of students achieving average or above. The subcategory with the shortest combined sections of yellow, green, and blue represents the lowest percentage of students achieving average or above. As you can see, Literature is the lowest percentage subcategory and Vocabulary Acquisition and Use is the highest percentage subcategory.

Analyzing data that have already been entered into the “Goal Setting, Monitoring, and Evaluating” organizer will help you respond to the question regarding the extent to which the percentage of average or above students in the winter is above or below the percentage of average or above students in the fall in the focus area identified in the beginning of year action plan. As you may recall, the beginning-of-year action plan was focused on “Vocabulary Acquisition and Use.”

Tutorial

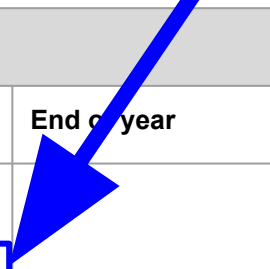

Compare the middle-of-year percentage of students achieving average or above in the area of Vocabulary Acquisition and Use with the beginning-of-year percentage

- Step 1: Identify the middle-of-year percentage of students achieving average or above in the area of Vocabulary Acquisition and Use, 85%
- Step 2: Identify the beginning-of-year percentage of students achieving average or above in the area of Vocabulary Acquisition and Use, 50%
- Step 3: Subtract the beginning-of-year percentage from the middle-of-year percentage ($85\% - 50\% = 35\%$)

Tutorial

The middle-of-year percentage of students achieving average or above in Vocabulary Acquisition and Use is 35 percentage points above the beginning-of-year percentage.

Middle of school year. Would like to monitor end-of-year goals for current class in the area of reading. Goals set a beginning-of-year focus on percentage of students meeting or exceeding percentile and increasing average scale score. Need mid-year actual and expected values, as well as end-of-year goals. Need high and low areas as evidence for action plan.

ASK

What are mid-year values? To what extent are mid-year values above or below mid-year expected values and end-of-year goal values? Which areas represent highest and lowest performance? To what extent is there a difference in mid-year and beg-year performance in action plan area?
